

Cooling Equipment Information:

To help you address the heat-related effects of MS, many companies have designed cooling garments & other types of equipment, including cooling vests, wrist/ankle/neck wraps, hats/caps and misters. To select the appropriate cooling equipment for your individual needs, consider the following:

- What is the cooling garment made of? What is its total cooling time?
- What is the garment's weight? Is it designed to fit under or over regular clothing?
- As the garments utilize different types of cooling mechanisms (e.g., ice/gel packs, evaporative cooling, phase-change), which works best in your specific climate? Explore each option here.
- For further details, view the National MS Society's Summer Guide to Managing Heat & MS and ActiveMSers.org's Cooling Gear Buying Guide, with product reviews & discount codes. For more cooling strategies, also visit the National MS Society's Heat & Temperature Sensitivity page.
- Will your health insurer cover this item? If coverage for cooling vests/equipment is offered, it will typically be found under the durable medical equipment benefit. If your health insurer denies the initial request, view instructions on filing a health insurance appeal or exception request, as well as view a sample cooling equipment appeal letter.
